

Short-term rentals in sectional title schemes

Aug 16, 2017 11:24 am

For some time now, insurers and underwriting managers have been raising concerns over the practice of short-term holiday accommodation letting in buildings regarded as standard residential occupancy risk by nature. The reality is that the moment a paying guest arrangement is entered into, a business relationship exists and the unit is no longer a residential | Read More